San Angelo Professor's Life From Angry Bull

San Angelo, Tex., July 21 - Skilful he nose of an infurnited bull saved he life of Prof. Minter Wemack, em-the life of Prof. Minier Womack, employed in the schools here, when Mr. Womack was attacked by the animal in his barayard. The educator escaped with deep gashes on his head and left hand, and was able to walk down town and relate the experience.

The bull, which had been dehorned, rose from where it was lying in the yard and rished upon Frof. Womack as he walked in front of it, knocking the professor to the ground and trampling on him. When the man struggled to his feet the animal tossed him on its stumps of horns high into the air and again trampled him.

Prof. Womack was out of reach of other weapons, but immaged to beat the angry bull on the nose with his slipper until he could crawl and limp to safety outside the fence.

Government Places German Subjects on Same Footing as Those of Enemies.

Rome, Italy, July 20 (via Paris, July 21.3-A ministerial decree was issued today placing the persons and property of Germans on the same footing of those of Austrians and Hungarians. The decree roes not directly mention Germans, but winter that nilles of Austrin are to be freated as enemies, and their subjects and goods are liable to sequestration. There are only a few German subects in Italy now and these will be either placed in concentration camps or sent across the Swiss border.

There has been a strong agitation in Italy for some time for the breaking of all relations with Germany.

At the great council of the entente powers held in Paria lists Pobruncy, the Halfan representatives were pressed for an explaration as to why Italy had not declared war on Germany. On February 29, italy requisitioned 14 German ships which were interned in Italian ports.

As a similar action by Portugal had promptly called forth an ultimature from Berlin which was followed by a declaration of war, it was confidently expected that the same would be followed in Italy. As far as known, however, Withelmstrange did not even make a protest. If war is now declared, Italian troops may be sent to the western front, according to the expectations expressed in London and Varia.
